

Through the University Program, students and faculty of active member universities have access to the Cadence Internet Learning Series online training courses free of charge.

By submitting this form, the course recipient acknowledges the following:

- Courses expire after six months regardless of completion and will not be extended or renewed.
- A new course may be requested only upon expiration or completion of previously enrolled courses.

Submit completed applications to universityprogram@cadence.com
